

1/2" Stretcher Leveler

Stretcher Leveling: The Price of Admission

In a multi-year market research study, we determined that our industry's top concern is the flatness of sheet and plate steel. Meeting this need for panel-flat, stress-free material required investment. In evaluating new equipment, we determined that stretcher leveling technology has evolved to become the price of admission to the marketplace. We chose a Red Bud Industries' Stretcher Leveler because of its outstanding performance, the company's strong reputation, and our excellent ongoing relationship.

With Red Bud's responsive and knowledgeable service, our new Stretcher Leveler was up and running on schedule. Now we produce HIGH SL, the first panel-flat, stress-free sheet and plate in our geographic area. Customer response has been overwhelming, and we have earned new business from fabricators and OEMs who recognize that truly flat steel can substantially reduce their operating costs.

Red Bud is a valued partner in our business success.
