Camden Yards Steel, a flat rolled steel service center, started production in 2000 in Camden, New Jersey. With the ability to unload their own ships and up to 20 rail cars per day, they serve the entire Eastern seaboard from Maine to Florida and west to the Mississippi.

In 2018, Camden Yards Steel started research on installing a Stretcher Leveler and a Multi Blanking Line. Ease of operation, reliability, and customer service were the deciding factors in choosing Red Bud Industries.

"We are able to run all of our products through the two pieces we purchased from Red Bud Industries. The consistency of the quality is perfect. The Stretcher Leveler has enabled us to enter new markets. When we get ready to install our next piece of equipment in Columbia, South Carolina, it will be from Red Bud Industries." -Mike Amato, Sr., Co-Founder & CEO
