Magna Stainless, a division of Canadian Specialty Metals, has been in operation for over 30 years. Located in Saint-Laurent, Quebec, they supply raw aluminum and stainless steel in the form of coil, sheet, and extrusion to Quebec and the Eastern Ontario regions.

When Magna Stainless decided to put in a cut-to-length line, they reached out to several customers of Red Bud Industries to learn of their experiences. The feedback received was overwhelmingly excellent, with major emphasis on the outstanding service provided by Red Bud Industries.

"Red Bud stood out to Magna Stainless. Their service, support, and after sales service had a very good reputation. Red Bud is the leader in design and manufacture of Coil Processing Lines. They are able to offer an innovative, robust design that will always work and never let you down."
