

“There is no one else making anything like the Red Bud Industries Light Gage Slitting Line.”

[Will Waldrip | Vice President | United Steel Supply]

Red Bud

Fulfilling Market Needs

COMPLETE COIL PROCESSING SOLUTIONS

United Steel Supply is a leading distributor and processor of steel products dedicated to the metal roofing and metal building industry in the United States. They warehouse and process bare and prepainted steel products for customers engaged in roll forming and other steel building applications. United Steel Supply provides their customers with just-in-time delivery and transportation of their products. In most cases, they deliver products to their customers within 24 hours. Vice President Will Waldrip advocates that these services would not be possible without the Red Bud Industries Light Gage Slitting Line.

“Red Bud Industries has a product that allows us to focus on job completion, instead of throughput, which makes it very unique in this industry. With our growth at United Steel Supply, we have other facilities that will be needing slit lines, and I can assure you that the Red Bud Industries Light Gage Slitting Line will be at the top of our list.”
